BIO:
Alemayehu Weldemariam holds an MA in Peace and Conflict Studies from the European University Center for Peace Studies in Austria and an LLB from Addis Ababa University in Ethiopia. His MA and LLB theses were respectively entitled “Conflict Management in the Ethiopian Multinational Federation: A Critical Examination” and “Legal Pluralism in Light of the Federal and State Constitutions of Ethiopia: A Critical Appraisal.” Mr. Weldemariam was most recently a Visiting Scholar at The Leo Strauss Center and the Department of Sociology at the University of Chicago, and he has held numerous advisory, legal, and programmatic positions at social justice and global affairs NGOs and government branches. Before he began his MA program, Mr. Weldemariam was an Assistant Lecturer in Law in the Faculty of Law at Jimma University. He also served as the Editor-in-Chief of Addis Fortune, the largest English-language newspaper in Ethiopia, and currently runs the Ras-selas Review, a blog concerned with current events and human rights issues in Ethiopia. He has researched and published extensively on Ethiopian law, politics, national security, and foreign policy, as well as peace and security issues in the region.
