Italy After the Feb. 2013 Elections

What Future for Italy and Europe?

Roland Benedikter
European Foundation Fellow 2009-13
Orfalea Center visiting Research Scholar
The Europe Center, Stanford University

Wednesday, April 10th at 12:00 PM
Orfalea Center Seminar Room
Robertson Gym 1005

Roland Benedikter, Dr. Dr. Dr., is European Foundation Fellow 2009-13, in residence at the Orfalea Center for Global and International Studies as a Visiting Scholar with duties as the Foundation's Research Professor of Political Analysis, and Visiting Scholar 2009-10 at the Europe Center of Stanford University. He is co-author of Ernst Ulrich von Weizsäcker's "Report to the Club of Rome" 2003 (all three versions: English, German and Chinese), has edited and co-authored 14 books, published more than 100 essays in specialized international journals, and is currently working on three books: One about the "Global Systemic Shift. How to Read the Current Phase of Globalization?", one about "China: Situation and Perspectives of the New Global Power" and one about the "Cultural Psychology of the West. Paradigms and Politics in the USA and Europe in the era Barack Obama". Roland's previous teaching and research engagements include Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Italy, Turkey, Bulgaria, the US, the UK, Australia, and Peru.